

MORNING STAR:

A morning star formation is a bullish candlestick pattern consisting of three candlesticks. The first is a bearish candlestick (preferably large in size) the second is a small indecision candlestick and the third is a bullish candlestick that closes at least above the middle of the first one. This is a very strong and reliable signal that a downtrend is reversing.