

BULLISH / BEARISH WEDGE:

A wedge pattern is described as a pattern whose trend lines above and below converge into a triangular shape. A bullish wedge is usually defined by “consistent highs and higher lows”. A bearish wedge is usually defined by “consistent lows with lower highs”.