

BEARISH ENGULFING:

A bearish engulfing pattern is a chart pattern that forms when a candlestick fully engulfs the previous day's candlestick. Obviously, this is an indication that the move higher that preceded has a high chance of reversing since the bears managed to take control.